Improving the funding system of operational activities for development of the United Nations system for enhanced system-wide coherence

General principles

22. Acknowledges efforts by developed countries to increase resources for development, including commitments by some developed countries to increase official development assistance, calls for the fulfilment of all official development assistance commitments, including the commitments by many developed countries to achieve the target of 0.7 per cent of gross national income for official development assistance by 2015 and to reach at least 0.5 per cent of gross national income for official development assistance by 2010, as well as the target of 0.15 per cent to 0.20 per cent for least developed countries, and urges those developed countries that have not yet done so to make concrete efforts in this regard in accordance with their commitments;

23. Welcomes the expanding number of countries making financial contributions to the operational activities of the United Nations development system, as well as the diversification of funding sources and mechanisms within the system. In this regard, welcomes the significant growth in funds to the UN development operations from $13 billion in 2003 to $22 billion in 2008, the highest level ever;
24. Stresses that core resources, because of their untied nature, continue to be the bedrock of the operational activities for development of the United Nations system, and in this regard notes with concern the long-term decline in the share of core contributions to the United Nations development system, which since 2005 has levelled off at about 34 per cent, and recognizes the need for organizations to attain, on a continuous basis, an adequate balance between core and non-core resources taking into account the unique mandate structure and programmes of individual entities, while noting that non-core resources represent an important supplement to the regular resource base of the United Nations development system to support operational activities for development;
25. Emphasizing that increasing financial contributions to the United Nations development system is key to achieving the internationally agreed development goals, including the Millennium Development Goals, and in this regard recognizes the mutually reinforcing links between increased effectiveness, efficiency and coherence of the United Nations development system, achieving concrete results in assisting developing countries in eradicating poverty and achieving sustained economic growth and sustainable development through operational activities for development and the overall resourcing of the United Nations development system;

Ensuring adequate funding

28. Stresses that funding for operational activities should be aligned with the national priorities and plans of programme countries as well as the strategic plans, mandates, resource frameworks and priorities of the United Nations funds, programmes and specialized agencies. In this regard, underscores the need to further strengthen the results frameworks of funds, programmes and agencies of the UN development system and for agencies, funds and programmes to improve their reporting on outputs and nationally owned outcomes;
29. Emphasizes the importance of taking measures to broaden the donor base and increase the number of donor countries and other partners making financial contributions to the United Nations development system in order to reduce reliance of the United Nations development system on a limited number of donors;

30. Recognizes the potential positive impact of determining the level of "critical mass" of core funding for United Nations development agencies. In this regard, notes that the concept of "critical mass" may include, inter alia, the level of resources adequate enough to respond to programme countries' needs, and to produce the results expected in strategic plans, including administrative, management and programme costs:
 - a) Invites the governing bodies of the funds and programmes to initiate further discussion with a view to exploring the most appropriate definition of, and a process towards arriving at, a 'critical mass' of core funding for each fund and programme, according to their individual mandates;
 - b) Invites further the governing bodies of relevant specialized agencies within the context of their 2012-2013 budgets, to consider exploring the most appropriate concept of and process for arriving at a 'critical mass' of core funding, according to their individual mandates;
 - c) Requests the funds and programmes to report on their efforts and conclusions on "critical mass" within their annual or biennial reports to ECOSOC beginning in 2011. In this regard, also encourages the specialized agencies, where relevant, to report on their efforts and conclusions on "critical mass" to ECOSOC;

Improving the quality of funding

32. Urges all Member States making non-core contributions to operational activities, as well as the United Nations funds, programmes and specialized agencies, to ensure that these resources are fully aligned with strategic plans and mandates and are in accordance with programme countries' priorities in the UNDAF;
33. Urges the Executive Boards of Funds and Programmes and governing bodies of specialized agencies to take measures to improve their governance and oversight of programme and project specific non-core funding by including in their annual reports an assessment of how such funding is aligned with the strategic plans of the respective organizations;
34. Requests the Secretary-General to include information on all existing Multi-Donor Trust Funds and Thematic Trust Funds, including information on their mandates, performance and governance structures in the annual report on financial statistics to ECOSOC with a view to further improving the participation of Member States in their governance;
35. Requests those United Nations agencies administering Multi-Donor Trust Funds to report on the administration of those funds to their respective governing bodies on an annual basis to ensure better complementarity between funds provided through Multi-donor Trust Funds and other funding sources;
36. Acknowledges that there are ongoing efforts being undertaken by the United Nations Development Group with a view to avoiding subsidization of non-core resources by core resources and, in that regard, requests the United Nations funds and programmes, and urges the specialized agencies to avoid using core / regular resources to cover costs related to the management of extra-budgetary funds and their programme activities and also urges Member States making non-core contributions to reduce transaction costs and streamline reporting requirements where possible;

Improving information to monitor funding trends

37. Takes note of the improved reporting on funding for operational activities of the UN development system and requests that further improvements be made to more accurately reflect the diversity in non-core funding streams such as multi-donor trust funds, including global, regional and country-level pooled funds;
38. Further requests, in this regard that future reporting on funding to the United Nations development system more clearly distinguish between funding for development and humanitarian activities, and better differentiate self-supporting contributions from other non-core funding flows;
39. Requests the Secretary-General to report on the predictability of resources to the United Nations development system, including the impact of rapid growth in non-core contributions compared to core funding, significant exchange rate fluctuations and limited use of multi-year pledges, in the annual report to ECOSOC on the results achieved, measures and processes implemented in follow-up to General Assembly resolution 62/208, to be considered by Member States in the context of the Comprehensive Policy Review of operational activities for development of the United Nations system;

Harmonisation of Business Practises

40. Notes the submission of the information provided by the United Nations Chief Executives Board for Coordination regarding the progress made in the area of simplification and harmonization of business practices within the United Nations development system;
41. Reiterates that the objective of simplification and harmonization of business practices within the United Nations development system is to harmonize and simplify rules and procedures, wherever this can lead to a significant cost savings and / or reduction in the administrative and procedural burden on the organizations of the United Nations development system and national partners, bearing in mind the special circumstances of programme countries, and to enhance the efficiency, accountability and transparency of the United Nations development system;
42. Encourages the Funds and Programmes to find more efficiency savings, also at headquarters, through common strategies and common operations, for instance in the fields of human resource management and information technology and administration, while ensuring that those common strategies and operations are consistent with relevant inter-governmentally agreed policies, including those related to the UN common system, and take into account the ongoing reforms on administrative and budgetary matters. In this regard, recommends annual reports on progress to their respective governing bodies and, as appropriate, keeping the General Assembly, through their respective reporting processes to the ECOSOC, abreast of such progress;

43. Reiterates its call upon the United Nations funds, programmes and specialized agencies to ensure, to the extent possible, that savings resulting from reductions in transaction and overhead costs accrue to development programmes in the same countries;
44. Stresses that simplification and harmonization of business practices within the United Nations development system including in the field of procurement shall be in compliance with relevant intergovernmental mandates, including those established by the General Assembly;
45. Requests the Secretary-General, in consultation with the Chief Executives Board to regularly brief the Economic and Social Council on progress made and challenges encountered in the simplification and harmonization of business practices and to refer any matter requiring an intergovernmental decision to relevant intergovernmental bodies;
